Ethics of a VA

We promote the Virtual Assistance industry with the utmost professionalism and give of our knowledge freely to new and existing VAs and the general public.

As Virtual Assistants, we will maintain the highest ethics and honesty in all dealings with clients, colleagues and the general public.

We will seek to deal with colleagues, suppliers and employees in a fair and equitable manner, and maintain the highest standards of personal conduct to bring credit to the Virtual Assistant profession.

As highly ethical Virtual Assistants, we only take on projects that are within our abilities. If a project is not within our ability, the client will be notified immediately and we will provide recommendations for other highly skilled Virtual Assistants.

Client information will be held in the strictest of confidence and will not be shared with others or used for personal gain.

We highly value each client relationship and will not place one client above another.

We will make a commitment to possess and increase the required knowledge, skills and training to be proficient and relevant in the provision of services.

We are honest about our intentions and never misrepresent our skills, peers, or our profession as a whole, whether to networks or to prospects, clients, and the community at large (virtual or otherwise).

We will not knowingly be a part of any illegal or unethical activity.

Tell The World Know You Are A VA
Or That You Work With A VA ...

Wear Or Display The VAdala
Proudly In Your Virtual Office!

The wire VAdala is versatile just like a VA and can be played with as a toy or stress reliever, used as a bracelet, hair ornament, candle holder or used for many decorative accents throughout your office.

The VAdala is fashioned from VA-violet colored fiber optic crystal glass beads specially entwined into a three dimensional durable stainless steel wire design.

An incredible amount of time went into choosing the final color of the beads for the VAdala so it represented the Virtual Assistant industry. The fiber-optic beads are representative of the many virtual clients the VA works for whereas the VA-violet colored beads have significant color meanings to the Virtual Assistant as well. This color combination of blue and purple to form a VA-violet color means ambition, stability, versatility, independence, trust, loyalty, wisdom and wealth which are all representative of highly developed traits a respected and successful VA would have.

The VAdala will also sooth the mind, decorate the body and satisfy the soul of a Virtual Assistant helping them become overall more productive and successful in their virtual businesses.
